Join us to see one of the most important paintings in Italian art history, "Narciso" attributed to the great Caravaggio and learn about this ancient story written by Ovid centuries ago and interpreted here in classical and modern key by several artists.

During our visit we will develop the theme of identity, as a reflection of a person, his or her inner attributes and how we, as observers, relate to the other.

The exhibition is located in eleven newly opened rooms at the Palazzo Barberini, that we are going to explore taking time at the end of our visit to draw a portrait of our own invention, inspired by the pictures and stories explored during our visit.

Check on www.artandseekforkids.com for programmes taught entirely in English and programmes taught in Italian to learn English.
